Dear Sir:

In response to the Final Office Action dated September 30, 1996, please consider the following remarks.

REMARKSThe Present Invention

The present invention is directed to a method of treating a cancer in a human wherein the cancer is susceptible to treatment with gossypol, gossypolone or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt thereof. The method comprises administering to the human an anti-cancer effective amount of one of the aforementioned compounds in a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier.
